

CALLING YOUNG ARTISTS

Amy's Artbox

COLOUR

COMPETITION 2022

Supported by

What is Amy's Artbox?

Amy Pettingill is a BA Hons commission artist from Hertfordshire, recognised for her unique, vibrant and playful acrylic paintings. Her 'Artbox' full of colouring pens, paints, pastels and pencils was her pride of joy growing up. Amy wants her vibrant pallet to bring colourful joy and positive vibes. What better way to inspire young artists to do the same with Amy's second Colour Art Competition?

Who can enter?

The competition is open to young artists between 11-16 years old who love colour.

What do I need to do?

Create your own artwork that is vibrant, positive and celebrates colour.

Does it need to be a painting?

Of course not, use any medium you want; paint, pencil, pastels, mixed media!

Help, what should I draw?

Create something that makes you feel happy. Or why not copy one of Amy's paintings and put your own spin on it with new decorative ideas and colours.

How do I enter?

Take a photo of your artwork in good light. Then email the photo, with your name, age and school to Amy at:
contact@amypettingill.co.uk

How long do I have?

Get creative during the winter months and submit your masterpiece by Friday 25th February.

What is the prize?

The winner will receive their very own artwork printed onto canvas, PLUS be invited to an exclusive art workshop with Amy in Stevenage. Three runners-up will also be invited to join the workshop. Certificates will also be presented.

WINNER IN 2021

Annabel Walsh

Year 8 'Flowers in a Vase'
Medium: Pencil

Get in touch, Amy is happy to answer any questions:

📞 07787 724113

✉ contact@amypettingill.co.uk

Keep up-to-date and follow:

📷 @amys_artbox

📘 @amypettingillartbox

#amysartboxcomp
www.amypettingill.co.uk

Art that brings colour, joy and positive vibes!